

Personal information – policy statement

We comply with the current law on data protection. We store and process the minimum of information about club members necessary to administer the club and provide services in that connection. Our use of this information is subject to the instructions of members, our duty of confidentiality and the Data Protection Act.

Access to personal information is restricted to Committee members (who are also directors of CMYC Ltd) together with other members approved by the Committee by virtue of their roles in club activities or for technical support. All those having access do so on the understanding that information is used solely for the benefit of CMYC Ltd and its members and to further the sport of recreational sailing. It may on occasions be necessary for us to disclose information to third parties such as the Royal Yachting Association or other affiliated clubs or bodies in connection with the safe running of club activities.
